

Risk Management training - 1 day

The importance of risk management can hardly be overstated. Awareness of risk has increased as we currently live in a less stable economic and political environment. The purpose of this risk management training course is to provide managers with a solid understanding of business risk and how to manage it.

Risk Management Training Course Objectives:-

This risk management training course looks at risk from different perspectives and analyses the possibilities for managing it in each situation. It focuses primarily on operational, project, and reputational risk management.

Risk Management Training Course Content

- Why risk is a more important management concern
- Understanding the regulatory environment
- The role of risk management and the risk manager in the modern organisation
- Risk in business decision making
- Principal tools: self-assessment, mapping, indicators, Escalation triggers, Loss event database; enterprise risk management
- Creating a risk management framework
- Benchmarking processes
- Identifying the factors involved in environmental, reputational, project and operational risk
- How psychological, personal and ethical issues impact risk management
- Risk management and corporate governance